VITAL BRIDGE RE-TAKEN

Many Soldiers Attempt To Land As Merchant Ships Are Unmasked

STOCKHOLM, April 10 — A German infantry force supported by war planes was engaged in battle with Norwegian troops today near Elverum, in south Norway, advices reaching Stockholm said.

Other clashes apparently occurred near Hamar, a southern Norwegian town evacuated this morning by the Norwegian government which had fled Oslo yesterday.

Norwegian resistance apparently was rapidly recovering from the initial shock of the German invasion.

The Norwegian garrison at Warnes Naval Station was reported to have recaptured the strategic Meraker Bridge, 12 miles east of Trondheim. One German plane was said to have been shot down in this area.

All roads into the interior from southeastern Norway were being barricaded by Norwegian troops.

During a fight at Oskarborg and another at Droeback, four houses were set afire by German bombs and some civilians were reported wounded by splinters.

German military headquarters have been set up in Oslo at Fort Akerhus, facing Oslo Harbor.

CATHOLIC PRIEST ASKED TO ADMINISTER RITES, SAVES LIFE OF WOMAN

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 10 — Called to administer the last rites of the Catholic Church to a "dying woman," the Rev. John B. Daley played the role of physician rather than cleric and saved the woman's life.

The "death rattle" which had caused the family of Mrs. Josephine Farbizio, 72, to send for the priest was a bit of food lodged in her throat, Father Daley found. Her struggle was a natural attempt to dislodge it.

The priest removed the obstruction and Mrs. Farbizio was taken to a hospital where a checkup indicated that she had suffered no harm.

STUDIO AFTER $170,000 DAMAGES FROM AMECHE

HOLLYWOOD, April 10 — Don Ameche, film and radio star, today faced a suit for $170,000 damages, filed in federal court by Paramount Studios.

The studio alleged Ameche had been borrowed from the 20th Century-Fox for the picture "The Night of January 16," but that when everything was in readiness for production, Ameche refused to appear on the Paramount lot.

Failure to live up to terms of his contract cost Paramount approximately $17,000, the suit charged.

German Battleship Reported Sent Down by Norwegian Guns

THE German battleship Gneisenau, pictured above, is reported sunk by fire of Norwegian coastal batteries at Oslofjord. The Gneisenau, launched December 6, 1936, is a vessel of 26,000 tons with a complement of 1,461 men. The ship carried nine 11-inch guns and 32 weapons of varying caliber as well as airplanes and catapults. The ship is one of the largest units in the Nazi fleet.

EFFORT TO END TROUBLE DENIED

Britain Not Informed Of Any Negotiation; Nazi Inspiration Cited

LONDON, April 10 — Official British quarters announced today that they had no confirmation of reports that the Norwegian government is preparing to negotiate with Germany and advised that all such reports should be treated with "great reserve."

These circles asserted it was "not beyond the bounds of possibility" that the Germans had contrived to invent the reports and to issue them from Oslo with the object of discrediting the Norwegian government headed by Premier Johan Nygaardsvold.

(Germany announced yesterday that a new Norwegian government headed by pro-Nazi Major Vidkun Quisling had been established at Oslo, replacing the Nygaardsvold regime which left the Norwegian capital.)

A Norwegian authority, speaking with the authority of Norwegian Minister Erik Colban, told International News Service that he believed any negotiations being carried on with Germany were conducted through the Quisling quisling regime and not the Nygaardsvold government.

Therefore, he claimed, such negotiations "carry no weight in the present situation."

ICELAND LEAVES DANISH CONTROL IN SUDDEN MOVE

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, April 10 — Iceland today virtually seceded from Denmark.

An official proclamation by the Icelandic parliament declared that the German invasion had deprived King Christian of exercise of his royal power over this country.

In accordance with the constitution, full governmental powers will now be placed in the hands of the Icelandic ministry.

Iceland, an independent country, has been under the personal sovereignty of the king of Denmark.

Shirley to Retire After Present Contract Ends

HOLLYWOOD, April 10 — Anxious that her famous daughter, Shirley Temple, lead a normal childhood and "forget movies for a few years," Mrs. George Temple said today that Shirley probably would retire from the screen when her contract with 20th Century-Fox expires in 14 months.

Shirley, who amassed a fortune in her seven years of screen work, will be 11 years of age on April 23, and Mrs. Temple believes that her talented daughter has earned the right to enjoy herself along the same lines of play, study and relaxation as other girls of her own age.

"I want her to go to school and forget movies for a few years," Mrs. Temple said.

Mrs. Temple denied rumors that the studio had been asked and had granted Shirley's release, insisting, along with studio executives, that the contract called for several more pictures.

GERMANY DENIES LOSS OF BREMEN IN NORWAY AREA

LONDON, April 10 — Fate of the German luxury liner Bremen, reported without confirmation to have been torpedoed and sunk yesterday, excited intense interest in British circles today.

(In Berlin the German propaganda ministry characterized as a "deliberate lie" the report that the Bremen had been sunk.)

Amsterdam, Holland, heard a rumor that the ship had been torpedoed while transporting 1,600 German troops to a northern Norwegian port.

Some of these rumors said Norwegian coastal batteries sent the vessel to the bottom, along with the German battleship Gneisenau, which likewise was unconfirmedly reported sunk.

The London Daily Sketch said the Bremen was torpedoed off the south coast of Norway.

CLIFTON DRESBACH DIES; SERVICE TO BE FRIDAY

Clifton Dresbach, 61, widely known Harrison Township farmer, died Wednesday at 1 a. m. after an illness of two months. Mr. Dresbach had suffered from a cerebral hemorrhage. His residence was one of the showplace properties of the township, located just north of South Bloomfield on the west side of the Scioto Trail.

The funeral will be Friday at 2 p. m. at the residence with burial in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Kingston, by E. F. Schlegel.

Mr. Dresbach, a former resident of Kingston, was born June 23, 1878 in Fairfield County, a son of Aaron and Cynthia Pile Dresbach. He married Bertha Dunkle, who preceded him in death.

Surviving are six children, Helen and Marjorie at home; Charles of Walnut Township; Mrs. May Spence of Adams County; Mrs. Lela Pontius of Ross County, and Mrs. Louise Eakin of Franklin County; a brother, Edward, of Chillicothe, and two sisters, Mrs. B. J. Griffith of Chillicothe and Mrs. E. E. Filene of near Ashville.

The studio alleged Ameche had been borrowed from the 20th Century-Fox for the picture "The Night of January 16," but that when everything was in readiness for production, Ameche refused to appear on the Paramount lot.

Failure to live up to terms of his contract cost Paramount approximately $17,000, the suit charged.

President Calls Advisers; Safety Of Americans Vital Problem

WASHINGTON, April 10 — President Roosevelt called in his economic advisers today to deal with Europe's new war crisis while the state department drafted a proclamation to extend provisions of the U. S. neutrality act to Scandinavian waters.

A proposed decree ordering evacuation of the estimated 3,350 Americans in Norway, Denmark and Sweden also was being drawn up by the state department experts, according to the White House.

Stephen T. Early, secretary of the President, revealed that Mr. Roosevelt had scheduled a conference with Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones and Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles. The fact that the President was seeing Jones and Welles at the (Continued on Page Two)

HALF OF GERMAN FLEET EXPOSED TO ALLIED FORCE

PARIS, April 10 — Half of the German naval fleet is now exposed to the Allied navies, Premier Paul Reynaud declared today.

"According to our information," Reynaud told the senate, "half of the German fleet which hitherto refused to come out of harbor is at present exposed to the Allied fleet."

The senate adjourned until next Tuesday immediately after hearing the premier, postponing a scheduled secret session.

"I have just learned of the loss of two German ships of 10,000 and 6,000 tons respectively," Reynaud said.

"Meanwhile, there has been only negligible damage done by German aviation to British ships."

Mrs. F. E. Barnhill Concerned About Sister's Whereabouts

Mrs. F. E. Barnhill, 715 North Court Street, is anxiously awaiting news concerning the whereabouts of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bassler, who were scheduled to sail from Bergen, Norway, last Sunday for the United States. With dangerous conditions existing in European waters, Mrs. Barnhill is not certain whether the couple was able to leave the Norwegian city as scheduled.

Mrs. Bassler, the former Fay Elliott, is widely known in Circleville. Prior to her marriage and removal to Akron, O., she was employed as secretary of the late James I. Smith, canner, and by Charles H. May and the late Judge Charles Dresbach in their law office.

NAVAL BATTLE IMPORTANT TO AMERICA, NAZI SAYS

BERLIN, April 10 — A cryptic observation that the aerial and naval engagements between the German and Allied fleets will prove of particular importance to the United States was made today by a German spokesman.

"This is the first time that a real showdown has occurred between sea fleets and air forces," a spokesman said.

"The results will be of world importance, particularly to America. Success or failure of the Allies depends on ability of the German and Allied fleets will dislodge our troops."

In official German announcements, the British navy was described as having no credit in the sinking of the 10,000-ton Bluecher and the 6,000-ton Karlsruhe, both important units of the small but fast Nazi fleet.

The Bluecher sank after striking a mine, a communiqué by the German high command declared.

ENEMIES ADMIT LOSS OF SHIPS

Ministry Reports London's Craft Taken From Scene Following Heavy Fighting At Narvik Along Norwegian Coast

BULLETIN

STOCKHOLM, April 10 — The British fleet, it was reported here tonight, has succeeded in dispersing a large fleet of German troop transports just beyond Swedish territorial waters.

In addition the Stockholm radio said a "great sea battle" was in progress tonight just beyond Marstrand.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

Britain's powerful fleet struck hard at German land and naval forces today but early reports of the battle shrouded the issue in doubt. Most dispatches indicated a possible Allied defeat.

The German high command

Enemies Admit Loss of Ships

(Continued from Page One) while the Karlsruhe went down as a result of damage inflicted by Norwegian shore batteries in the course of a series of encounters accompanying Germany's extension of a "protectorate" over the Scandinavian states.

Meanwhile, Germany moved forward swiftly in her campaign to immobilize possible Allied action in northern Europe by opening direct negotiations with King Haakon for cooperation with the Nazi regime.

Through its minister to Oslo, who left the capital with members of the Norwegian government when the Nazi occupation began, Germany is now negotiating directly with King Haakon for re-establishment of "normal relations," a Wilhelmstrasse spokesman declared.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Dispatches from Paris quoted Premier Johann Nygaardsvold as saying that his government would continue to resist Germany for preservation of Norway's political and territorial independence.)

According to authentic statements from the German government, the Reich has assured both Oslo and Copenhagen that the sovereignty and integrity of Norway and Denmark are to be respected to the letter, while the domestic life of both nations will remain unmolested except for essential military measures "to safeguard these regions against Allied attacks."

To Be Evacuated

Both Norway and Denmark will be evacuated by German troops once the war is over or the Allies have demonstrated their failure to attack and make Scandinavia battlefield, it was said.

In the meantime, the spokesman continued, Germany is merely interested in "authentic" relationships with both countries, and in this respect it was emphasized that only King Haakon and King Christian are empowered to act instead of civilian governments.

German authorities stated positively that the Allies had failed to take any forces either in Denmark or Norway.

An official announcement stated that the British losses were even heavier than those announced last night in a communiqué which said that two British battleships were heavily hit by three bombs and that two heavy British cruisers were also severely hit. The communiqué added that one British warship was drifting and that the second was afire.

Thus Chancellor Hitler's Scandinavian coup, after 24 hours, was hailed in the Reich as an apparently complete success with the Norwegian coast held in an "unbreakable" German grip.

Despite many conflicting rumors, early reports of the naval and air action off the Norwegian Coast pointed to a serious defeat of the initial Anglo-French attempt to strike a counter-blow from the sea.

German military quarters refrained from drawing complete conclusions as to the results of the battle pending further reports, but they insisted that the Allies had been unable to force a landing.

It was assumed in Berlin that this failure resulted from inability of the Allies to break through the German air and sea cordon and that Germany's diving bombing planes "apparently bested the Allied warships."

ONLY 50 LOANS ON WHEAT REMAIN TO BE SETTLED

Of 253 wheat loans that were made under the AAA in the county, only 50 remain to be liquidated by April 30. Paul Matthaeus, manager of the Pickaway County Agricultural Conservation Association, reported Wednesday.

The 253 loans covered 123,000 bushels of wheat at the rate of 73 cents per bushel. Many of the farmers who participated in the loan program reported averaging as much as 26 cents a bushel more when they sold.

Corn loans face a liquidation date of August 1. Only 38 corn loans on 33,000 bushels were made. The program granted 57 cents per bushel.

Loans on corn are smaller in number, Matthaeus explained, since the county has a great many livestock farms and corn is used for feed rather than being sold.

Relatives in Circleville and Pickaway County have learned of the death last Wednesday in Orlando, Fla., of the Rev. Charles H. Dreisbach, Pickaway County native. The Rev. Mr. Dreisbach died last Wednesday and funeral services were conducted Friday. He had lived for the last seven years with a sister, Mrs. Emma D. Woodside.

The state Civil Service Commission announced Wednesday that Robert Timmons of Circleville has passed a civil service examination for state liquor store manager, a position he now holds. Joe A. McKinley, now living in Columbus but formerly a resident of Darbyville, has qualified for a clerk's job, the commission declared.

"Bomber command aircraft attacked in relays in quick succession. The attack was delivered by a strong force of long-range bombers in the face of intense anti-aircraft fire from the warships.

"The aircraft flew in sections and in a line astern of the principal targets which were two large cruisers and two destroyers anchored in the Bergen roadstead.

"In the failing light accurate observation of the results was difficult, but one heavy bomb was seen to register a direct hit on the after part of a large cruiser of the Koeln class.

"Despite intense fire all the aircraft returned safely in the night, landing safely at their bases after a flight of eight hours."

Meanwhile, British authorities said it can be stated specifically that the Germans have not taken the Faroe Islands, Greenland or Iceland and that the British government "has every intention of seeing that Germany does not take them."

Intent Undisclosed

A government spokesman declined to elaborate, however, on whether Britain intends to land forces in those areas or concentrate naval units around them.

Naval circles sought to minimize the depressing effect of the announcement regarding the Hunter and Hardy, asserting that while their fate was "unfortunate" it was of no material consequence to Britain, which has more than 160 destroyers.

In any event, they contended, the British loss is more than balanced by the probable loss or damage to at least three German cruisers.

These quarters said that destroyers carrying 4.7-inch guns are considered fully worthy of engaging cruisers in such an area as Narvik, where there was a possibility of out-classing the German vessels in numbers and maneuverability.

Naval authorities insisted that the full story of the naval situation off the Norwegian Coast still remains to be told, and that the Narvik engagement was "only an incident."

The announcement was the first concrete news received in Britain regarding the major naval battle which raged off the western coast of Norway.

The communiqué said: "British destroyers attacked enemy forces at Narvik, Norway, at dawn today. They encountered strong opposition."

"The Hunter was sunk. The Hardy ran ashore. The remainder withdrew. No details of casualties aboard these ships are yet available.

"Enemy losses are not yet known for certain, but there is an unconfirmed report from Stockholm that a German cruiser was sunk by one of our submarines."

"One of our submarines also torpedoed an enemy cruiser off south Norway last night. It is thought the cruiser was sunk."

"Bombers of our air force attacked an enemy cruiser off Bergen last night. They attained one hit. Bombers of the fleet air arm also attacked an enemy cruiser at Bergen this morning. They attained three hits."

The contest, in which large air units as well as warships were believed to be participating, was regarded as a vital struggle which may decide whether Germany or the Allies will possess Scandinavia following the Reich's sudden invasion of Denmark and Norway yesterday.

At the same time reports circulated that a large British expeditionary force was approaching Dutch territorial waters.

British air bombing attacks against two more German cruisers at Bergen, in which hits were said to have been scored, also were announced by the admiralty.

In one of these raids, aviation circled stated, British planes last night raided German warships off Bergen, scoring a direct hit with a heavy bomb on one cruiser and, it was believed, damaging other warships. The assault was described as follows:

"Bomber command aircraft attacked in relays in quick succession. The attack was delivered by a strong force of long-range bombers in the face of intense anti-aircraft fire from the warships.

May 1 Vital Date For Sign-Up in AAA Plan

Farmers numbering 1,115, and representing 60 percent of the farm operators in the county, have indicated that they expect to participate in the 1940 AAA Farm Program. John G. Boggs, chairman of the county AAA committee, reported Wednesday.

May 1 marks the deadline for farmers to express their intentions for participating in the program by filling out and signing a "Farm Plan" for his farm.

With the recent announcement of parity payment rates on special crops, a Pickaway County farmer may now determine the amount he may earn for compliance with the 1940 program.

Mr. Boggs urged farmers who expect to participate in the 1940 program to complete and sign farm plans soon, since no conservation payments or corn parity payments will be made on any farm for which a farm plan is not completed by May 1.

79 Percent in 1939

Last year, 1,500 farmers, operating 79 percent of the cropland of Pickaway County, participated in the 1939 program. Indications are that the 1940 sign-up in the county will be about the same as last year.

Complete participation in the program will make it possible for the farmer to earn the following payments:

1. A payment of 15 cents per bushel on the normal yield of his corn acreage allotment. This payment is divided into a conservation payment of 10 cents per bushel and a parity payment of 5 cents per bushel.

2. A payment of 19 cents per bushel on the normal yield of his wheat allotment. This is divided into a conservation payment of 9 cents a bushel and a parity payment of 10 cents per bushel.

3. Approximately $1.10 per acre on the acreage available for general crops, which includes such crops as oats, rye, and barley.

4. Special payments for carrying out soil-building practices such as spreading limestone, planting trees, and seeding alfalfa.

5. Corn and wheat loans as authorized by the AAA.

6. Eligibility for full advantages of the Federal Crop Insurance program.

CHIEF OF POLICE HURLS WARNING AT GUN USERS

Police Chief W. F. McCrady, Wednesday, warned youths who fire air guns and target rifles in violation of the city ordinance against discharge of the guns in Circleville city limits will result in their confiscation.

"We have been receiving complaints from persons in all parts of the city," the chief said, "that they have to dodge shots at any and all times of the day. We are going to break it up and where it hurts most. We are going to take the guns away from their owners."

Lawrence Payne, 21, York Street, was arrested Wednesday for using firearms within the city limits. The rifle he was using was confiscated, but Payne was released after sharp reprimand.

The latter two boys will be sent to a camp in the state while the other will be sent to undisclosed camps in the West.

Officers for the year were elected at the organization meeting of the Jackson Township 4-H Livestock Club at the township school building Tuesday night. F. K. Blair, county agent, helped the 14 members start the organization and lay the basis on which to make plans for their program for the year.

The boys are Harry G. Clifton, Circleville Route 3; Pearl Downing Jr., Tarlton; Robert Downing, Tarlton; James Garvey, Williamsport; Robert Kuhn, Tarlton; Russell Pexton, Circleville Route 2; Ray Wilson, Mt. Sterling; Harrison Hill, West Huston Street; John Scott, Circleville Route 3.

The officers elected are as follows: president, Leroy Newlon; vice president, Walter Bumgarner; Jr.; secretary, Donald Hulse; treasurer, Kenneth Bumgarner; news reporter, Dale Goodman.

The club's next meeting will be at the school building at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 8.

TICKET, AFTER SIX YEARS

The law nipped F. K. Blair, after six years. During all that time he had been parking his car in the alley beside the Farm Bureau building. Tuesday, much to his chagrin, he found his windshield bedecked with a red ticket reminding him that parking in the alley was illegal. "After six years," he mused. "That's a long time."

Illinois Pledges 11s 54 Convention Delegates To President

OMAHA, Neb., April 10 — The bitter campaign waged between supporters of District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York and United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan for Nebraska's 14 delegates to the Republican national convention was reflected today by a close vote in incomplete returns from yesterday's primary balloting.

Reports from only 733 of the state's 2,033 precincts gave Dewey 30,693 votes, Vandenberg 23,837.

Republicans retained the congressional seat left vacant by the death of George Heinke, when Charles Dafoe, former Democratic state senator, conceded election to J. Hyde Sweet, Nebraska city newspaper publisher, and secretary to Heinke who was killed in an automobile accident Christmas week.

President Roosevelt was unopposed on the Democratic ballot, and polled 30,776 votes in 733 precincts.

Democratic interest centered on the contest between Senator Edward R. Burke, incumbent, and Gov. R. L. Cochran for nomination as U. S. Senator. Returns from 738 precincts gave Cochran 23,251, Burke 18,154.

CHICAGO, April 10 — President Roosevelt led Vice President Garner by approximately 6 to 1 early today as returns were tabulated in the Illinois presidential preference primary.

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey was unopposed for Republican presidential preference. Political experts, however, eyed the size of Dewey's vote, which ran about half of Roosevelt's total in Cook County (Chicago) and exceeded the President's in early returns downstate.

The vote assured Roosevelt of the support of Illinois' 58 delegates to the Democratic national convention which will pick a 1940 presidential nominee. With 14 delegates he won unopposed in Nebraska yesterday, the President now has the support of 204 of the 206 delegates picked so far.

Returns from 4,986 of 8,336 precincts in Illinois gave:

For Roosevelt—685,782.

For Garner—116,813.

Dewey, in 4,013 precincts, had a total vote of 378,214.

Roosevelt at this point was leading Garner by better than 6 to 1 in the Chicago area, and by somewhat less that 5 to 1 in downstate Illinois. The downstate precincts were slower in reporting.

Roosevelt's name was entered in the presidential race by the Chicago Democratic organization.

CHILDREN USE 'COUNT OUT' SYSTEM SEEKING BOOK OF FAIRY TALES

"Eeni, meeni, minni, mo . . ." Miss Jessie Cummings, assistant in the Public Library, looked up and saw five tots gravely "counting out" to see who would be "it."

This procedure being somewhat unusual in the library, she decided to investigate.

Phyllis, age 10 or 11, the eldest in the group of lower grade youngsters, acted as spokesman. She explained that they had spent some time in the children's section looking for something to read. They were particularly interested in fairy stories, she said, but not a single one was on the library shelves, and they could find nothing else they liked. It seemed that all the books were old and they had read most of them.

Then another youngster returned a book of fairy stories. Each of them wanted it, so they decided to settle the question in their play time way.

D. R. Pfouts, librarian, says the library needs 4,000 more books for children in order to meet the demand. Circulation for February, he added, showed an increase of 2,656 books over the same period last year. (February 1939—14,650 books; February 1940—17,306 books.)

POS RETURNS TO PLEAD GUILTY IN LAW VIOLATION

J. J. Pos, formerly of Circleville, appeared in the office of George Gerhardt, county prosecutor, Tuesday and entered a plea of guilty to an indictment returned against him by the January term of the 1938 Grand Jury. He was fined $25 and costs by Common Pleas Judge Meeker Terwilliger on the charges of practicing medicine without a license from the state medical board. Pos is now a resident of Missouri.

of Mayor Edward J. Kelly and National Committeeman Patrick A. Nash, who touched off the "draft Roosevelt" campaign also supported by Gov. Henry Horner of Illinois in the Midwest.

Kelly-Nash-Horner candidates also scored a virtually complete victory in a bitter state contest for Democratic nominations. Harry B. Hershey of Taylorville led the organization slate by beating Lieut. Gov. John Stelle for the governorship nomination.

Lieut. Gov. Stelle, who climaxed his campaign by declaring he had assumed the governor's office on the eve of the voting because of the illness of Gov. Horner, reiterated today that he considers himself acting governor. A legal battle between him and Horner is expected.

In the Republican race for gubernatorial nomination, Dwight Green, Chicago attorney who helped put Al Capone in prison, beat Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville. Both candidates had concentrated their fire in attacks on the New Deal.

Senator James B. Slattery, who had Kelly-Nash backing, won the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator, and Wayland C. Brooks defeated Congressman Ralph Church for the Republican senatorial nomination.

WOMAN CHOSEN AS MEMBER OF SERVICE BOARD

CHILLICOTHE, April 10—In being named by Mayor Harold H. Brown to the Civil Service Commission, Mrs. Mary Cox, Republican, became the first woman to serve on that board in the city. Her appointment was to fill the unexpired term of Russell Battieger, Democrat, whose commission was to expire December 1, 1940.

Speculation was raised that Battieger's resignation may have been associated with the factional dispute in the Republican ranks led by Byron Blair and John P. Phillips, jr.

Mayor Brown declared that the factional fight had nothing to do with the resignation and that the recent action of the commission in placing the city's service department under civil service did not figure into the picture.

Miss Bernelle Goodman, a former teacher of instrumental music in the Pickaway County school system and now of Union Furnace, entered pupils in a contest held recently at Logan. A brass quartette which received a superior rating and a trumpet soloist receiving a rating of excellent are planning to represent the district at the state festival in Oberlin. The band competing with nine others received an excellent rating. Approximately 1,200 boys and girls entered the contest.

CARS HOOK BUMPERS IN COURT STREET MISHAP

Slight fender damage resulted from two cars locking bumpers on North Court Street Tuesday at 8 p. m. Miss Ethel May, Circleville Route 4, had parked double in front of the Mykrantz Drug Company with her car pointed southward. Mrs. A. D. Newmyer, North Court Street, driving in the same direction, came too close to Miss May's car and hooked bumpers.

ASHVILLE

By S. D. Fridley

Ashville, Phone 79

Our guess that they'd all be in to visit Dad Ed Dewey on Sunday was just right. The home people and some of the old friends were in at the Ed and Mrs. Dewey home with those "well filled baskets" you've often heard about and a most enjoyable Sunday was spent at the Dewey home celebrating that seventy-ninth birthday. Those present other than Mr. and Mrs. Dewey were Mrs. Audrey Eisel and daughter Jo Ellen, Mrs. William Bish and son Rex, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Johnson and son Jerry and daughter Joan, all of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wagner, son Donald, and daughters Annabelle, Opal Mae, Dona Jean, Barbara Jo, Grove City; William and Mrs. Cloud and sons William and Jerry, Ashville. Mr. Dewey besides the many wishes for many more happy birthdays was the recipient of several nice presents.

The death of Mrs. Mary Finks, 86, was announced here Tuesday, she having died at her home in Groveport the day previous. She was asister of E. B. O. Ett of this place the only living family relative. She was the daughter of the late Conrad and Mrs. Ett of Walnut Township. Funeral was held at Groveport Wednesday afternoon.

S. M. Smith, up Harrison Township way, was here doing some shopping and while at it spared some time to talk. He and our Lawrence Peters have been rather steady attendants as jurors in federal court at Columbus. Said that both Judge Mell Underwood and his regular bailiff, Charles Gusman, have not been in charge of the court recently, presiding elsewhere, he thought. Old school and band days didn't get even a mere mention and that is real news.

The local school board was in session Tuesday evening at the school office, the paying of bills being the only business transacted, so we were informed at the close of the session. The employment of teachers for the next school year will get no attention until next month. The senior class commencement exercises will be held during the week of May 19. And if we've made no error in the court, there are twenty-one members in the class and we'll be naming them for you very soon. And too, maybe they'll be telling us whether it is to be preacher, lawyer or doctor for them.

ANOTHER OF SHOPLIFTING CREW CONFESSES, FINED

Entering a plea of guilty to petit larceny, Mrs. L. T. Cade, Detroit, one of the six Negroes arrested in Circleville in February and charged with shoplifting, was fined $50 and costs by Mayor Harold H. Brown. She paid the fine and was released.

Mims Mathews, Detroit, is still on bond her plea is expected in a few days. The remainder of the sextet are in the Ross County jail serving fines and terms of $50 and costs and 30 days each. They are Willette Searcy, West Virginia, Mrs. Marian Clifton, Jack Stevens and Alphonso Foster, all of Detroit.

PRESIDENTIAL CHANCES

IF Dr. E. A. Hooton, Harvard anthropologist, thought he was shocking the American public with his bearish statement on children's presidential chances, he has another guess coming.

It isn't true, he says, that "all men are born free and equal and all have a chance to be president." Sixty percent of our population are constitutionally, mentally and socially unfit for the position, and "any educational program that anticipates any other possibility is just plain screwy."

Well, the public can "take it." Most of us are probably philosophic enough to say that if forty percent of our children are good enough for the presidency, it's a pretty satisfactory average.

And what's more, none of us are really left out. The inferior sixty percent are always other people's children.

MODERN FOLKLORE

NOW someone says that the people of Holland never even heard of the brave little boy who stuck his finger into a hole in the dike and held back the sea. The incident never happened. How the story got into a McGuffey Reader, the Hollanders are not prepared to state.

This is terrible! There ought to be a law against all such debunking. Still, it may not be necessary. The George Washington-cherry tree story has been debunked many times, but it hasn't vanished either from holiday table decorations or from the nation's folk lore. By now everybody ought to know that Mrs. O'Leary's cow—if she had one—didn't start the Chicago fire, but the debunkers of this myth doubtless will be forgotten long before the cow is cleared of the responsibility.

There's a whole new crop of myths being created today. Maybe the debunkers would do better to let bygones be bygones and start separating fact from fiction in current history.

BRONZE DOORS FOR GUNS

NOT content with combing Germany for old iron and begging housewives for their copper pots, the government is stripping bronze from its public buildings. The most conspicuous example so far is that of Chancellor Hitler himself, contributing the great bronze doors of the Reichs Chancellery and junking its splendid candelabra for this cause.

This sort of thing can hardly be a mere gesture. It must mean that Germany is growing desperate for war metals, that the iron ring around her is squeezing hard.

British elections are snappy, but Americans like 'em to be "linked sweetness long drawn out."

WORLD AT A GLANCE . . .

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

GERMANY's story that a couple of American ambassadors (Joseph P. Kennedy in London and William C. Bullitt in Paris) committed the United States to a pro-Polish attitude against the Reich, in chats with Poland's envoys, before the pending European war started, is not going to be provable either way.

Minister Cromwell, our diplomatic representative in Canada, made a public pro-Ally speech in Toronto. It was a matter of stenographic record. A big crowd heard it. It isn't disputed.

But Ambassador Kennedy's and Bullitt's alleged confabs with Polish "fixers" (if they occurred at all) were confidential. The Poles' account of them is only in accordance with the Poles' recollections.

Moreover, they never occurred, either. President Roosevelt said they needed to be taken "with a grain of salt" — or "several grains." He might have said a barrel of salt, if he had in mind a 100 percent denial. Merely "several grains" was a trifle weak, in the circumstances. State Secretary Hull said absolutely that he didn't believe 'em. That was flat-footed enough. Ambassador Bullitt's denial also was sufficiently unqualified. He said he didn't say what he was quoted as saying. But did that

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

ROOSEVELT WILL GO TO BAT

WASHINGTON—The President will personally ask Congress to boost his original $1,000,000,000 WPA budget estimate to $1,500,000,000.

He will do this on top of his previous authorization to Colonel F. C. Harrington, WPA Administrator, to tell the House Appropriations subcommittee that the higher relief figure is needed.

Roosevelt disclosed his intention to go to bat personally for relief to Representative Clifton Woodrum, chairman of the committee, who chided him for a last-minute upward revision of his budget estimate. Roosevelt pointed out that when he submitted his estimate in January he had warned that it was tentative and subject to change.

Economic conditions make an increase necessary, he told Woodrum, and he was prepared to assume personal responsibility for asking for it.

An economy advocate, Woodrum would not commit himself on whether he would go along with the new request. But with the President backing a $1,500,000,000 appropriation (the same as this year's), its chances of getting by Congress are strengthened considerably.

NOTE—Harrington, an Army engineer, fought vigorously for restoration of the $500,000,000 cut and was praised by the committee for the manner in which he presented his arguments.

TOUGH BREAK

George P. Rea, head of the New York Curb Exchange, certainly ran into tough luck in the publicity on his blast against the SEC.

He released to the press a lengthy statement he had sent out to exchanges around the country urging their support of a drive to revise the securities law on the ground that it was obstructing the investment market. The New York Times gave it a full column in its influential financial section.

But topping the two columns immediately adjoining the story were these ironic headlines:

$100,000,000 OUTLAY BY CHICAGO EDISON FOR EXPANSION AND NEW PLANTS

BANKING GROUP TO SELL 714,835 COMMON OF INDIANAPOLIS POWER & LIGHT COMPANY $17,156,040 Offering Largest of Its Kind in Ten Years

NOTE—Later Leslie Gould, well-known New York financial writer, caustically advised Wall Street to award Rea a "long pair of coat tails with brass handle bars" because "moves like this one by Mr. Rea just muddy the waters."

LABOR ACT SAFETY

The secret decision reached at the House Republican caucus on the drastic Smith amendments to the National Labor Relations Act was to play it safe.

The GOP boys will take no stand for the present. They will keep mum until public reaction can be gauged. Then the next step will be decided. But whatever party stand is decided on, the strategy will be to let the Democrats carry the ball in the open battling over the amendments.

The green leaves of the vegetables are the most efficient trap for this energy, and when we eat green vegetables and fruit, we acquire by indirect methods some of the sun's energy. This, however, should al-

Man was supposed to live in the sun. It actually creates food. Experiments have shown that when guinea pigs are given a prepared food which lacks several elements necessary for maintaining life and health, and are kept in the dark on this diet, they grow deformed and crippled. But if they are placed in the sunlight for half an hour, even though they are on this same diet, they grow in a healthy way; the bones grow well and no crippling occurs.

Even when the crippled guinea pigs are placed in the sun, they begin to improve immediately without making any change in their diet.

The ultra-violet rays of sunlight are a very efficient, vitalizing agent.

Pneumonia, influenza and other infections are most prevalent in the geographical regions where sunlight is absent a large part of the time.

DIET AND HEALTH

Expectant Mother Needs Iron in Diet

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Should an expectant mother eat foods containing iron?

Yes, and she should also sometimes take pure iron in addition to iron-containing foods.

Among the most important results of the recent intensive interest in the study of blood conditions has been to show the frequency of a certain type of anemia in pregnant women due to iron-deficiency. It is part of the routine job of an obstetrician when he first examines an expectant mother to make an examination.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

ination of the blood, and this should be done at frequent intervals during the entire progress of the pregnancy. This is one of the important duties of the modern doctor in carrying out what is known as prenatal care.

The public should be educated in this and the mother should co-operate with the doctor by submitting to monthly visits so that her condition may be checked frequently during the period she is carrying the child.

Value of Sunlight to the Body

Does exposure to sunlight add anything to the body?

One of the early theories of the nature of light described by Newton was that it consisted of a number of fine particles. This was the so-called "corpuscular theory." Later it was decided that light was a mode of motion, but in modern days it seems to have changed its ground and gone back to the Newtonian theory, that sunlight is a substance, fine particles in rapid motion—the most rapid motion known, 186,000 miles per second.

Sunlight definitely has an effect on the body. The sun's rays are the greatest source of energy known. The green leaves of the vegetables are the most efficient trap for this energy, and when we eat green vegetables and fruit, we acquire by indirect methods some of the sun's energy. This, however, should always be supplemented by exposure to the sun itself.

I DID NOT tell Louise of my discovery in Tony Pappin's room. It might mean nothing. On the other hand, if it meant what I thought it did, it was going to lead me into a dangerous adventure in which I was determined she would not share. She was a brave girl, but this was a man's work.

"We'd better put this room in order," I told her. "If we tell the police we saw our murder suspect running out of here, they'll start looking for fingerprints. Ours are all over the place."

The hunt for Tony was continuing and we had plenty of time to hang his clothes back in the closet, drop his other belongings back into the drawers and straighten the rug. We left the bed in some disarray, knowing the officers would be expecting to find it that way.

DEERCREEK TOWNSHIP GIRL LEADS IN SENIOR SCHOLARSHIP COMPETITION

STATE REPORTS GRADES SCORED BY 16 STUDENTS

Marina June Straley Takes Honors With 210 Score Of Possible 300

POSITIONS ANNOUNCED

Circleville Boy In Tie With Saltcreek Pupil For Second Place

A Deer Creek Township girl is the outstanding senior high school pupil in Pickaway County, grades announced Wednesday by the State Department of Education reveal. She is Marina June Straley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Straley, who scored a grade of 210 out of a possible 300 to pace boys and girls of all the county schools and of Circleville in the annual General Scholarship Test for seniors conducted March 30 in the Circleville High School building.

The grades were revealed by Superintendent George D. McDowell, head of the Pickaway County schools, after the papers were checked in the state department office.

In second place among the seniors were found David R. Eagleson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Eagleson of North Pickaway Street, and Charlotte Jeanne Schall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Schall of Saltcreek Township. They tied with grades of 206.

The only grades revealed by the State Department of Education were those of the high 25 percent of the 64 students who took the examinations. Grades of the other seniors will be sent to the various schools for consideration by their superintendents.

In addition to the first and second place winners, the following were included in the top 25 percent:

Charles W. Mayberry, Walnut, 203; Marilyn E. Lutz, Circleville, 201; William C. Martin, Ashville, 196; Robert E. Strous, Saltcreek, 195; Warren J. Elliott, Washington, 190; Eleanor L. Brown, Circleville, 189; Eileen Oesterle, New Holland, 188; Warren E. Beers, Scioto, 184; Annabelle Carle, Deer Creek, 184; Robert L. Bremer, Circleville, 181; Helen L. Straley, Deer Creek, 180; Bernard K. Dennis, New Holland, 176; William E. Strehle, Walnut, 174.

Certificates of recognition will be presented to the seniors in the top 25 percent.

Census Shows Adelphi May Disappear, But Not For About 2,000 Years

The disappearance of the village of Adelphi in 2,000 years was the prediction that was made following the completion of the census in the village Tuesday. Adelphi was the first minor civil subdivision reporting in the 11th census district, which includes Pickaway, Fairfield, Perry, and Ross Counties, J. H. Mattox, district census supervisor, said.

Adelphi was a thriving village of 412 persons when the 1930 count was finished. The 1940 total compiled by Enumerator George Kellenberger, Hallsville, showed that present population has shrunk to 410 persons.

Mr. Mattox indicated that this is an unofficial report similar to those which will follow as each civil subdivision is completed. The procedure follows the pattern in this manner: the enumerator's report is checked by the district office which in turn gives the report to some person in authority in the subdivision who then makes the official statement of the count. In Circleville it will probably be Mayor William B. Cady who will make the official report.

A checkup period will exist between the time the report is received from the enumerator and the official report to Washington. This period is to allow complaints to be made of those who have not been counted or of those who know others who have not been added to the tally. Criticism is invited, Mattox said, and a checkup on all complaints will be made.

A contest for top honors in housing was waged and Chillicothe became the victor when it was found that 20 persons were discovered living in a five room house exceeding the mark of 18 persons living in a single household in Columbus.

Six more opportunities remain for boys over 18 years of age and all men of Pickaway County to train for future leadership of new Boy Scout troops to be organized in the county, according to word received from Virgil Cress, county chairman of Leadership Training.

Knowledge of the Scouting Movement is not necessary for any persons desiring to attend the sessions to be held on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of the first three weeks in April at Memorial Hall.

Outstanding Scouting from all parts of Central Ohio are giving of their time to address the enrollees of the course. Wednesday evening, Charles Goslin, 25 year veteran Eagle Scout and recent recipient of the Silver Beaver Award for outstanding service to boyhood, will give the main topic of the evening.

Dr. David Goldschmidt, Pickaway County District Scout Commissioner and Scoutmaster of the Training Course, has asked that all organizations contemplating the sponsorship of a Scout Troop send representatives to the Wednesday night meeting.

SALE OF AUTO LICENSE TAGS GOES ABOVE 1939

The lull has finally set in in the sale of automobile license tags. A few persons still drift in to the office of A. J. Lyle, registrar, but the boom days before the April 1 with 1939 plates.

Sales to date are ahead of those of last year by 33 plates, but a fairly steady stream of between 20 and 30 a day is expected to show a decided increase at the end of the month. Total figures Tuesday were 2,768 this year and 2,735 in 1939. Monday following the deadline there were 64 sales, 45 on Tuesday and 20 on Wednesday.

No arrests were made in the city of persons driving after April 1 with 1939 plates.

MAN, 57, EJECTED FROM CAFE MAY BE BADLY HURT

CHILlicothe, April 10—Following his forcible ejection from Hamelburg's Cafe on West Water Street, Frank Shewalter, 57, Sherman Hotel, was in a critical condition at the Chillicothe Hospital Tuesday night.

Fred Schenkle, the bartender who ejected Shewalter, was taken to the police station with the unconscious man. Shewalter was transferred to the hospital after the examination.

A report from the hospital by the doctor said that Shewalter, who suffers a bad heart condition, was still unconscious and showed little pulse. He did not respond to the periodic administration of heart stimulants.

If consciousness is not regained by Shewalter Wednesday, tests will be made to determine whether he suffered a skull fracture.

Chester Stevens, Saltcreek Township brought suit against Samuel Myers, Portsmouth for damages resulting from personal injuries he suffered when his car and that of Myers collided at the intersection of Routes 159 and 56 last June. He asked $5,000 damages and claims in his petition that Myers was guilty of negligence when he drove across the intersection at an approximate speed of 60 miles per hour without heeding the stop sign. The case is to be heard Monday.

Asking for $10,000 damages for the alienation of the affections of his wife, Albert Beglin, Columbus, has brought suit against his mother-in-law, Mrs. Edna Fritz McGee, Seymour Place, Route 104.

The suit filed in July, 1938, will be heard by the jury on Wednesday.

STOCKHOLM, April 10 — A German infantry force supported by war planes was engaged in battle with Norwegian troops today near Elverum, in south Norway, advices reaching Stockholm said.

Other clashes apparently occurred near Hamar, a southern Norwegian town evacuated this morning by the Norwegian government which had fled Oslo yesterday.

Norwegian resistance apparently was rapidly recovering from the initial shock of the German invasion.

The Norwegian garrison at Warnes Naval Station was reported to have recaptured the strategic Meraker Bridge, 12 miles east of Trondheim. One German plane was said to have been shot down in this area.

All roads into the interior from southeastern Norway were being barricaded by Norwegian troops.

During a fight at Oskarborg and another at Droeback, four houses were set afire by German bombs and some civilians were reported wounded by splinters.

German military headquarters has been set up in Oslo at Fort Akershus, facing Oslo Harbor.

Swedish military experts expressed belief the Norwegian forces may succeed in recapturing many positions from the Germans.

CATHOLIC PRIEST ASKED TO ADMINISTER RITES, SAVES LIFE OF WOMAN

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 10—Called to administer the last rites of the Catholic Church to a "dying woman", the Rev. John B. Daley played the role of physician rather than cleric and saved the woman's life.

The "death rattle" which had caused the family of Mrs. Josephine Farhazio, 72, to send for the priest was a bit of food lodged in her throat. Father Daley found, her struggle was a natural attempt to dislodge it.

The priest removed the obstruction and Mrs. Farhazio was taken to a hospital where a checkup indicated that she had suffered no harm.

STUDIO AFTER $170,000 DAMAGES FROM AMECEHE

HOLLYWOOD, April 10 — Don Ameche, film and radio star, today faced a suit for $170,000 damages, filed in federal court by Paramount Studios.

The studio alleged Ameche had been borrowed from the 20th Century-Fox for the picture "The Night of January 16," but that when everything was in readiness for production, Ameche refused to appear on the Paramount lot.

Failure to live up to terms of his contract cost Paramount approximately $17,000, the suit charged.

German Battleship Reported Sent Down by Norwegian Guns

THE German battleship Gneisenau, pictured above, is reported sunk by fire of Norwegian coastal batteries at Oslofjord. The Gneisenau, launched December 6, 1936, is a vessel of 26,000 tons with a complement of 1,461 men. The ship carried nine 11-inch guns and 32 weapons of varying caliber as well as airplanes and catapults. The ship is one of the largest units in the Nazi fleet.

EFFORT TO END TROUBLE DENIED

Britain Not Informed Of Any Negotiation; Nazi Inspiration Cited

LONDON, April 10 — Official British quarters announced today that they had no confirmation of reports that the Norwegian government is preparing to negotiate with Germany and advised that all such reports should be treated with "great reserve."

These circles asserted it was "not beyond the bounds of possibility" that the Germans had contrived to invent the reports and to issue them from Oslo with the object of discrediting the Norwegian government headed by Premier Johan Nygaardsvold.

Germany announced yesterday that a new Norwegian government headed by pro-Nazi Major Vidkun Quisling had been established at Oslo, replacing the Nygaardsvold regime which left the Norwegian capital.

A Norwegian authority, speaking with the authority of Norwegian Minister Erik Colban, told International News Service that he believed any negotiations being carried on with Germany were conducted through the Quisling puppet regime and not the Nygaardsvold government.

Therefore, he claimed, such negotiations "carry no weight in the present situation."

ICELAND LEAVES DANISH CONTROL IN SUDDEN MOVE

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, April 10—Iceland today virtually seceded from Denmark.

An official proclamation by the Iceland parliament declared that the German invasion had deprived King Christian of exercise of his royal power over this country.

In accordance with the constitution, full governmental powers will now be placed in the hands of the Icelandic ministry.

Iceland, an independent country, has been under the personal sovereignty of the king of Denmark.

The funeral will be Friday at 2 p. m. at the residence with burial in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Kingston, by E. F. Schlegel.

Mr. Dresbach, a former resident of Kingston, was born June 23, 1878 in Fairfield County, a son of Aaron and Cynthia Pile Dresbach. He married Bertha Dunkle, who preceded him in death.

Surviving are six children, Helen and Marjorie at home; Charles of Walnut Township; Mrs. May Spence of Adams County; Mrs. Lela Pontius of Ross County, and Mrs. Louise Eakin of Franklin County; a brother, Edward, of Chillicothe, and two sisters, Mrs. B. Shirley to Retire After Present Contract Ends

HOLLYWOOD, April 10—Anxious that her famous daughter, Shirley Temple, lead a normal childhood and "forget movies for a few years," Mrs. George Temple said today that Shirley probably would retire from the screen when her contract with 20th Century-Fox expires in 14 months.

Shirley, who amassed a fortune in her seven years of screen work, will be 11 years of age on April 23, and Mrs. Temple believes that her talented daughter has earned the right to enjoy herself along the same lines of play, study and relaxation as other girls of her own age.

"I want her to go to school and forget movies for a few years," Mrs. Temple said.

Mrs. Temple denied rumors that the studio had been asked and had granted Shirley's release, insisting, along with studio executives, that the contract called for several more pictures.

GERMANY DENIES LOSS OF BREMEN ITS CONFIDENCE IN NORWAY AREA

LONDON, April 10—Fate of the German luxury liner Bremen, reported without confirmation to have been torpedoed and sunk yesterday, excited intense interest in British circles today.

In Berlin the German propaganda ministry characterized as a "deliberate lie" the report that the Bremen had been sunk.

Amsterdam, Holland, heard a rumor that the ship had been torpedoed while transporting 1,600 German troops to a northern Norwegian port.

Some of these rumors said Norwegian coastal batteries sent the vessel to the bottom, along with the German battleship Gneisenau, which likewise was unconfirmedly reported sunk.

The London Daily Sketch said the Bremen was torpedoed off the south coast of Norway.

CLIFTON DRESBACH DIES; SERVICE TO BE FRIDAY

Clifton Dresbach, 61, widely known Harrison Township farmer, died Wednesday at 1 a. m. after an illness of two months. Mr. Dresbach had suffered from a cerebral hemorrhage. Mr. Dresbach, a former resident of Kingston, was born June 23, 1878 in Fairfield County, a son of Aaron and Cynthia Pile Dresbach. He married Bertha Dunkle, who preceded him in death.

HALF OF GERMAN FLEET EXPOSED TO ALLIED FORCE

PARIS, April 10—Half of the German naval fleet is now exposed to the Allied navies. Premier Paul Reynaud declared today.

"According to our information," Reynaud told the senate, "half of the German fleet which hitherto refused to come out of harbor is at present exposed to the Allied fleet."

The senate adjourned until next Tuesday immediately after hearing the premier, postponing a scheduled secret session.

"I have just learned of the loss of two German ships of 10,000 and 6,000 tons respectively," Reynaud said.

"Meanwhile, there has been only negligible damage done by German aviation to British ships."

The demands were described as:

1—An immediate Russo-Finnish trade pact.

2—Immediate construction of a railroad across Finland to the Swedish frontier.

3—Joint Russo-Finnish control of Finnish nickel mines.

First Real Showdown

"This is the first time that a real showdown has occurred between sea fleets and air forces," a spokesman said.

"The results will be of world importance, particularly to America. Success or failure of the Allies depends on ability of the Allies to land forces in Norway and dislodge our troops."

In official German announcements, the British navy was depicted as having suffered a heavy loss in the sinking of the 10,000-ton Blucher and the 6,000-ton Karlsruhe, both important units of the small but fast Nazi fleet.

The Blucher sank after striking a mine, a communiqué by the German high command declared.

NAVAL BATTLE IMPORTANT TO AMERICA, NAZI SAYS

BERLIN, April 10—A cryptic observation that the aerial and naval engagements between the German and Allied fleets will prove of particular importance to the United States was made today by a German spokesman.

He said:

"This is the first time that a real showdown has occurred between sea fleets and air forces."

The results will be of world importance, particularly to America."

The allusion was not further explained.

ENEMIES ADMIT LOSS OF SHIPS

Ministry Reports London's Craft Taken From Scene Following Heavy Fighting At Narvik Along Norwegian Coast

BULLETIN

STOCKHOLM, April 10—The British fleet, it was reported here tonight, has succeeded in dispersing a large fleet of German troop transports just beyond Swedish territorial waters.

In addition the Stockholm radio said a "great sea battle" was in progress tonight just beyond Marstrand.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
Britain's powerful fleet struck hard at German land and naval forces today but early reports of the battle shrouded the issue in doubt. Most dispatches indicated a possible Allied defeat.

The German high command hailed the first outburst of large-scale sea and air warfare along Norwegian coasts as a severe setback for Britain and France.

Nazi authorities categorically stated the Allies failed to land troops either in Denmark or Norway.

Germany claimed losses suffered by the British fleet in an attempt to close in on Bergen were even heavier than those first announced last night in Berlin.

In a dawn attack by British destroyers against German forces at Narvik, the British admiralty said it was believed a German cruiser was sunk by a submarine attack. In addition, British bombing planes attacked two German cruisers off Bergen, obtaining hits on both.

The British announcement admitted the destroyer Hunter was sunk and the destroyer Hardy ran ashore when Germans at Narvik put up terrific resistance and forced the British fleet to withdraw.

BERLIN, April 10—Admitting loss of two of her own crack cruisers, Germany today claimed that eleven Allied warships, including the 2,650-ton French battleship Dunkerque, were damaged today in a series of engagements along the western coast of Norway.

The fighting occurred in what London believed to be a prelude to a concerted attempt by the Allies to land forces in Norway and wrest occupied ports and coastal areas from the Germans.

A British admiralty announcement stated that the British cruisers Bluecher and Karlsruhe were sunk by Norwegian mines and coastal shells, a communiqué by the German high command admitted. But, the statement asserted, four Allied battleships, two battle cruisers, three heavy cruisers and two armed transports were struck and badly damaged by German bombs.

Simultaneously, the Reich announced direct negotiations with King Haakon VII for resumption of "normal" German-Norwegian relations.

The German cruisers Bluecher and Karlsruhe were sunk by Norwegian mines and coastal shells, a communiqué by the German high command admitted. But, the statement asserted, four Allied battleships, two battle cruisers, three heavy cruisers and two armed transports were struck and badly damaged by German bombs.

According to the admiralty, the other British destroyers participating in the Narvik engagement withdrew after the Hunter sank and the Hardy ran aground. But the announcement cited an unconfirmed report that a German cruiser had been sent to the bottom.

Another Torpedoed
In addition, the admiralty announced said a British submarine torpedoed another German cruiser off southern Norway during

BRITAIN TO BAR GERMANS FROM DANISH DISTRICT

LONDON, April 10—Great Britain may declare a "temporary protectorate" over Greenland, Iceland and the Faroe Islands, dependencies or possessions of the Danish Crown, it was learned on reliable authority today.

This action may be taken, it was said, on the grounds that Denmark is now de facto enemy territory. Spokesmen asserted that Britain has no intention of permitting Germany to lay claim to these territories.

Enemies Admit Loss of Ships

while the Karlsruhe went down as a result of damage inflicted by Norwegian shore batteries in the course of a series of encounters accompanying Germany's extension of a "protectorate" over the Scandinavian states.

Meanwhile, Germany moved forward swiftly in her campaign to immobilize possible Allied action in northern Europe by opening direct negotiations with King Haakon for cooperation with the Nazi regime.

Through its minister to Oslo, who left the capital with members of the Norwegian government when the Nazi occupation began, Germany is now negotiating directly with King Haakon for re-establishment of "normal relations," a Wilhemstrasse spokesman declared.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Dispatches from Paris quoted Premier Johann Nygaardsvold as saying that his government would continue to resist Germany for preservation of Norway's political and territorial independence.)

According to authentic statements from the German government, the Reich has assured both Oslo and Copenhagen that the sovereignty and integrity of Norway and Denmark are to be respected to the letter, while the domestic life of both nations will remain unmolested except for essential military measures "to safeguard these regions against Allied attacks."

To Be Evacuated

Both Norway and Denmark will be evacuated by German troops once the war is over or the Allies have demonstrated their failure to attack and make Scandinavia battlefield, it was said.

In the meantime, the spokesman continued, Germany is merely interested in "authentic" relationships with both countries and in this respect it was emphasized that only King Haakon and King Christian are empowered to act instead of civilian governments.

German authorities stated positively that the Allies had failed to land any forces either in Denmark or Norway.

An official announcement stated that the British losses were even heavier than those announced last night in a communiqué which said that two British battleships were heavily hit by three bombs and that two heavy British cruisers were also severely hit. The communiqué added that one British warship was drifting and that the second was afire.

Thus Chancellor Hitler's Scandinavian coup, after 24 hours, was hailed in the Reich as an apparently complete success with the Norwegian coast now held in an "unbreakable" German grip.

Despite many conflicting rumors, early reports of the naval and air action off the Norwegian Coast pointed to a serious defeat of the initial Anglo-French attempt to strike a counter-blow from the sea.

German military quarters refrained from drawing complete conclusions as to the results of the battle pending further reports, but they insisted that the Allies had been unable to force a landing.

It was assumed in Berlin that this failure resulted from inability of the Allies to break through the German air and sea cordon and that Germany's diving bombing planes "apparently beat the Allied warships."

ONLY 50 LOANS ON WHEAT REMAIN TO BE SETTLED

Of 283 wheat loans that were made under the AAA in the county, only 50 remain to be liquidated by April 30, Paul Mathews, manager of the Pickaway County Agricultural Conservation Association, reported Wednesday.

The 283 loans covered 123,000 bushels of wheat at the rate of 73 cents per bushel. Many of the farmers who participated in the loan program reported averaging as much as 26 cents a bushel more when they sold.

Corn loans face a liquidation date of August 1. Only 38 corn loans on 33,000 bushels were made. The program granted 57 cents per bushel.

Loans on corn are smaller in number, Mathews explained, since the county has a great many live stock farms and corn is used for feed rather than being sold.

the night, and that this vessel also was believed to have sunk.

British air bombing attacks against two more German cruisers at Bergen, in which hits were said to have been scored, also were announced by the admiralty.

In one of these raids, aviation circled, British planes last night raided German warships off Bergen, scoring a direct hit with a heavy bomb on one cruiser and, it was believed, damaging other warships. The assault was described as follows:

"Bomber command aircraft attacked in relays in quick succession. The attack was delivered by a strong force of long-range bombers in the face of intense anti-aircraft fire from the warships.

"The aircraft flew in sections and in a line astern of the principal targets which were two large cruisers and two destroyers anchored in the Bergen roadstead.

"In the failing light accurate observation of the results was difficult, but one heavy bomb was seen to register a direct hit on the after part of a large cruiser of the Koeln class.

"Despite intense fire all the aircraft returned safely in the night, landing safely at their bases after a flight of eight hours."

Meanwhile, British authorities said it can be stated specifically that the Germans have not taken the Faroe Islands, Greenland or Iceland and that the British government "has every intention of seeing that Germany does not take them."

Intent Undisclosed

A government spokesman declined to elaborate, however, on whether Britain intends to land forces in those areas or concentrate naval units around them.

Naval circles sought to minimize the depressing effect of the announcement regarding the Hunter and Hardy, asserting that while their fate was "unfortunate" it was of no material consequence to Britain, which has more than 150 destroyers.

In any event, they contended, the British loss is more than balanced by the probable loss or damage to at least three German cruisers.

These quarters said that destroyers carrying 4.7-inch guns are considered fully worthy of engaging cruisers in such an area as Narvik, where there was a possibility of out-classing the German vessels in numbers and maneuverability.

Naval authorities insisted that the full story of the naval situation off the Norwegian Coast still remains to be told, and that the Narvik engagement was "only an incident."

The announcement was the first concrete news received in Britain regarding the major naval battle which raged off the western coast of Norway.

The communiqué said:

"British destroyers attacked enemy forces at Narvik, Norway, at dawn today. They encountered strong opposition.

"The Hunter was sunk. The Hardy ran ashore. The remainder withdrew. No details of casualties aboard these ships are yet available.

"Enemy losses are not yet known for certain, but there is an unconfirmed report from Stockholm that a German cruiser was sunk by one of our submarines.

"One of our submarines also torpedoed an enemy cruiser off south Norway last night. It is thought the cruiser was sunk.

"Bombers of our air force attacked an enemy cruiser off Bergen last night. They attained one hit. Bombers of the fleet air arm also attacked an enemy cruiser at Bergen this morning. They attained three hits."

The contest, in which large air units as well as warships were believed to be participating, was regarded as a vital struggle which may decide whether Germany or the Allies will possess Scandinavia following the Reich's sudden invasion of Denmark and Norway yesterday.

At the same time reports circulated that a large British expeditionary force was approaching Dutch territorial waters.

DEWEY LEADING VANDENBERG IN NEBRASKA RACE

Returns From Only Part Of Precincts Finds New Yorker Ahead

F. D. TROUSES GARNER
Illinois Pledges Ifs 54
Convention Delegates
To President

OMAHA, Neb., April 10 — The bitter campaign waged between supporters of District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York and United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan for Nebraska's 14 delegates to the Republican national convention was reflected today by a close vote in incomplete returns from yesterday's primary balloting.

Reports from only 733 of the state's 2,033 precincts gave Dewey 30,693 votes, Vandenberg 23,837.

Republicans retained the congressional seat left vacant by the death of George Heinke, when Charles Dafoe, former Democratic state senator, conceded election to J. Hyde Sweet, Nebraska city newspaper publisher, and secretary to Heinke who was killed in an automobile accident Christmas week.

President Roosevelt was unopposed on the Democratic ballot, and polled 30,776 votes in 733 precincts.

Democratic interest centered on the contest between Senator Edward R. Burke, incumbent, and Gov. R. L. Cochran for nomination as U. S. Senator. Returns from 738 precincts gave Cochran 23,251, Burke 18,154.

CHICAGO, April 10 — President Roosevelt led Vice President Garner by approximately 6 to 1 early today as returns were tabulated in the Illinois presidential preference primary.

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey was unopposed for Republican presidential preference. Political experts, however, eyed the size of Dewey's vote, which ran about half of Roosevelt's total in Cook County (Chicago) and exceeded the President's in early returns downstate.

The vote assured Roosevelt of the support of Illinois' 58 delegates to the Democratic national convention which will pick a 1940 presidential nominee. With 14 delegates he won unopposed in Nebraska yesterday, the President now has the support of 204 of the 206 delegates picked so far.

Returns from 4,986 of 8,336 precincts in Illinois gave:

For Roosevelt—685,782.

For Garner—116,813.

Dewey, in 4,013 precincts, had a total vote of 378,214.

Roosevelt at this point was leading Garner by better than 6 to 1 in the Chicago area, and by somewhat less that 5 to 1 in downstate Illinois. The downstate precincts were slower in reporting.

Roosevelt's name was entered in the presidential race by the Chicago Democratic organization.

CHILDREN USE 'COUNT OUT' SYSTEM SEEKING BOOK OF FAIRY TALES

"Eeni, meeni, mini, mo . . ."

Miss Jessie Cummings, assistant in the Public Library, looked up and saw five tots gravely "counting out" to see who would be "it."

This procedure being somewhat unusual in the library, she decided to investigate.

Phyllis, age 10 or 11, the eldest in the group of lower grade youngsters, acted as spokesman. She explained that they had spent some time in the children's section looking for something to read. They were particularly interested in fairy stories, she said, but not a single one was on the library shelves, and they could find nothing else they liked. It seemed that all the books were old and they had read most of them.

Then another youngster returned a book of fairy stories. Each of them wanted it, so they decided to settle the question in their play time way.

D. R. Pfouts, librarian, says the library needs 4,000 more books for children in order to meet the demand. Circulation for February, he added, showed an increase of 2,656 books over the same period last year. (February 1939—14,650 books; February 1940—17,306 books.)

POS RETURNS TO PLEAD GUILTY IN LAW VIOLATION

J. J. Pos, formerly of Circleville, appeared in the office of George Gerhardt, county prosecutor, Tuesday and entered a plea of guilty to an indictment returned against him by the January term of the 1938 Grand Jury. He was fined $25 and costs by Common Pleas Judge Meeker Terwilliger on the charges of practicing medicine without a license from the state medical board. Pos is now a resident of Missouri.

MISS GOODMAN'S PUPILS HIGH IN LOGAN CONTEST

The band competing with nine others received an excellent rating. Approximately 1,200 boys and girls entered the contest.

Newmyer, North Court Street, driving in the same direction, came too close to Miss May's car and hooked bumpers.

WOMAN CHOSEN AS MEMBER OF SERVICE BOARD

CHILLICOTHE, April 10—In being named by Mayor Harold H. Brown to the Civil Service Commission, Mrs. Mary Cox, Republican, became the first woman to serve on that board in the city. Her appointment was to fill the unexpired term of Russell Battieger, Democrat, whose commission was to expire December 1, 1940.

Speculation was raised that Battieger's resignation may have been associated with the factional dispute in the Republican ranks led by Byron Blair and John P. Phillips, jr.

Mayor Brown declared that the factional fight had nothing to do with the resignation and that the recent action of the commission in placing the city's service department under civil service did not figure into the picture.

Released earlier in the day after being held for investigation, Procipio told police that his first name was Robert. Checking with the Pennsylvania police during the investigation, it was learned that his younger brother is named Robert and that he was at home in Kulpmont.

DRIVERS SLOWLY LEARN ABOUT LEFT-SIDE PARKING

Circleville drivers, although decreasing in numbers, are still finding it difficult to get on the right side of the street. Patrolman Miller Fissell, in charge of traffic, reported that three more drivers paid fines Tuesday for parking on the wrong side of the street.

"They're learning and getting better," he said. "The number of violators is falling off."

PRESIDENTIAL CHANCES

If Dr. E. A. Hooton, Harvard anthropologist, thought he was shocking the American public with his bearish statement on children's presidential chances, he has another guess coming.

It isn't true, he says, that "all men are born free and equal and all have a chance to be president." Sixty percent of our population are constitutionally, mentally and socially unfit for the position, and "any educational program that anticipates any other possibility is just plain screwy."

Well, the public can "take it." Most of us are probably philosophic enough to say that if forty percent of our children are good enough for the presidency, it's a pretty satisfactory average.

And what's more, none of us are really left out. The inferior sixty percent are always other people's children.

MODERN FOLKLORE

Now someone says that the people of Holland never even heard of the brave little boy who stuck his finger into a hole in the dike and held back the sea. The incident never happened. How the story got into a McGuffey Reader, the Hollander are not prepared to state.

This is terrible! There ought to be a law against all such debunking. Still, it may not be necessary. The George Washington-cherry tree story has been debunked many times, but it hasn't vanished either from holiday table decorations or from the nation's folk lore. By now everybody ought to know that Mrs. O'Leary's cow—if she had one—didn't start the Chicago fire, but the debunkers of this myth doubtless will be forgotten long before the cow is cleared of the responsibility.

There's a whole new crop of myths being created today. Maybe the debunkers would do better to let bygones be bygones and start separating fact from fiction in current history.

BRONZE DOORS FOR GUNS

Not content with combing Germany for old iron and begging housewives for their copper pots, the government is stripping bronze from its public buildings. The most conspicuous example so far is that of Chancellor Hitler himself, contributing the great bronze doors of the Reichs Chancellery and junking its splendid candelabra for this cause.

This sort of thing can hardly be a mere gesture. It must mean that Germany is growing desperate for war metals, that the iron ring around her is squeezing hard.

British elections are snappy, but Americans like 'em to be "linked sweetness long drawn out."

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

GERMANY'S story that a couple of American ambassadors (Joseph P. Kennedy in London and William C. Bullitt in Paris) committed the United States to a pro-Polish attitude against the Reich, in chaste with Poland's envoys, before the pending European war started, is not going to be provable either way.

Minister Cromwell, our diplomatic representative in Canada, made a public pro-Ally speech in Toronto. It was a matter of stenographic record. A big crowd heard it. It isn't disputed.

But Ambassadors Kennedy's and Bullitt's alleged confab with Polish "fixers" (if they occurred at all) were confidential. The Poles' account of them is only in accordance with the Poles' recollections. Moreover, maybe they never occurred, either. President Roosevelt said they needed to be taken "with a grain of salt" — or "several grains." He might have said a barrel of salt, if he had in mind a 100 percent denial. Merely "several grains" was a trifling weak, in the circumstances. State Secretary Hull said absolutely that he didn't believe 'em. That was flat-footed enough. Ambassador Bullitt's denial also was sufficiently unqualified. He said he didn't say what he was quoted as saying. But did that mean that he was quoted inaccurately? — or that he didn't even imply what it was asserted he implied. Ambassador Kennedy, at least initially, chose not to answer the German "white paper." Possibly he didn't consider it worth noting.

GERMANY'S VERSO

The German version is to the effect that it got its information from papers it seized in Warsaw, when it gobbled Poland.

Perhaps it did seize 'em. Or perhaps it's faking them. Berlin contends that they're photostatic copies. But who knows who wrote the originals? Most of them are written in Polish. However, plenty of Germans can write Polish.

The trouble is that we're suspicious of our diplomacy — not its good-will, but its judgment.

Minister Cromwell made an unquestionable bad break in Canada. How about Ambassadors Kennedy and Bullitt in London and Paris respectively?

It's proved against Cromwell. How about Kennedy and Bullitt?

CROMWELL? KENNEDY? BULLITT?

Cromwell didn't have any diplomatic qualifications except that he had money. He was just a plutocrat. He hadn't ordinary sense of any sort.

Kennedy was a good businessman. He made his own money. Generally speaking, it was taken for granted that he ought to be o. k. in world affairs, as internationally. You can't tell about that, though. Inter-national and intra-national affairs are different.

I've known Bill Bullitt for years I believe what he says, textually.

But that bird belongs to one of the "first families of Philadelphia." He estimates himself as speaking for the United States generally. If he says he didn't say so-and-so, I believe him.

But, broadly, he has his ideas. I've heard him discuss 'em.

He thinks he knows what's best for this country. And for the world.

To put it mildly, Bill's conceited. Joe Kennedy isn't a bit conceited; he's inexperienced. He's a dandy business man, but he's a child diplomatically.

Bill's utterly impractical.

The rub of it is:

We simply haven't any diplomacy.

It's important at this stage of the game.

State Secretary Hull is too honest about it.

It was announced that Ted Lewis would furnish the nursery at Berger Hospital in commemoration of his father, the late Ben Friedman.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

ROOSEVELT WILL GO TO BAT

WASHINGTON—The President will personally ask Congress to boost his original $1,000,000,000 WPA budget estimate to $1,500,000,000.

He will do this on top of his previous authorization to Colonel F. C. Harrington, WPA Administrator, to tell the House Appropriations subcommittee that the higher relief figure is needed.

Roosevelt disclosed his intention to go to bat personally for relief to Representative Clifton Woodrum, chairman of the committee, who chided him for a last-minute upward revision of his budget estimate. Roosevelt pointed out that when he submitted his estimate in January he had warned that it was tentative and subject to change.

Economic conditions make an increase necessary, he told Woodrum, and he was prepared to assume personal responsibility for asking for it.

An economic advocate, Woodrum would not commit himself on whether he would go along with the new request. But with the President backing a $1,500,000,000 appropriation (the same as this year's), its chances of getting by Congress are strengthened considerably.

NOTE—Harrington, an Army engineer, fought vigorously for restoration of the $500,000,000 cut and was praised by the committee for the manner in which he presented his arguments.

TOUGH BREAK

George P. Rea, head of the New York Curb Exchange, certainly ran into tough luck in the publicity on his blast against the SEC.

He released to the press a lengthy statement he had sent out to exchanges around the country urging their support of a drive to revise the securities law on the ground that it was obstructing the investment market. The New York Times gave it a full column in its influential financial section.

But topping the two columns immediately adjoining the story were these ironic headlines:

$100,000,000 OUTLAY BY CHICAGO EDISON FOR EXPANSION AND NEW PLANTS

BANKING GROUP TO SELL 714,835 COMMON OF INDIANAPOLIS POWER & LIGHT COMPANY $17,156,040 Offering Largest of Its Kind in Ten Years

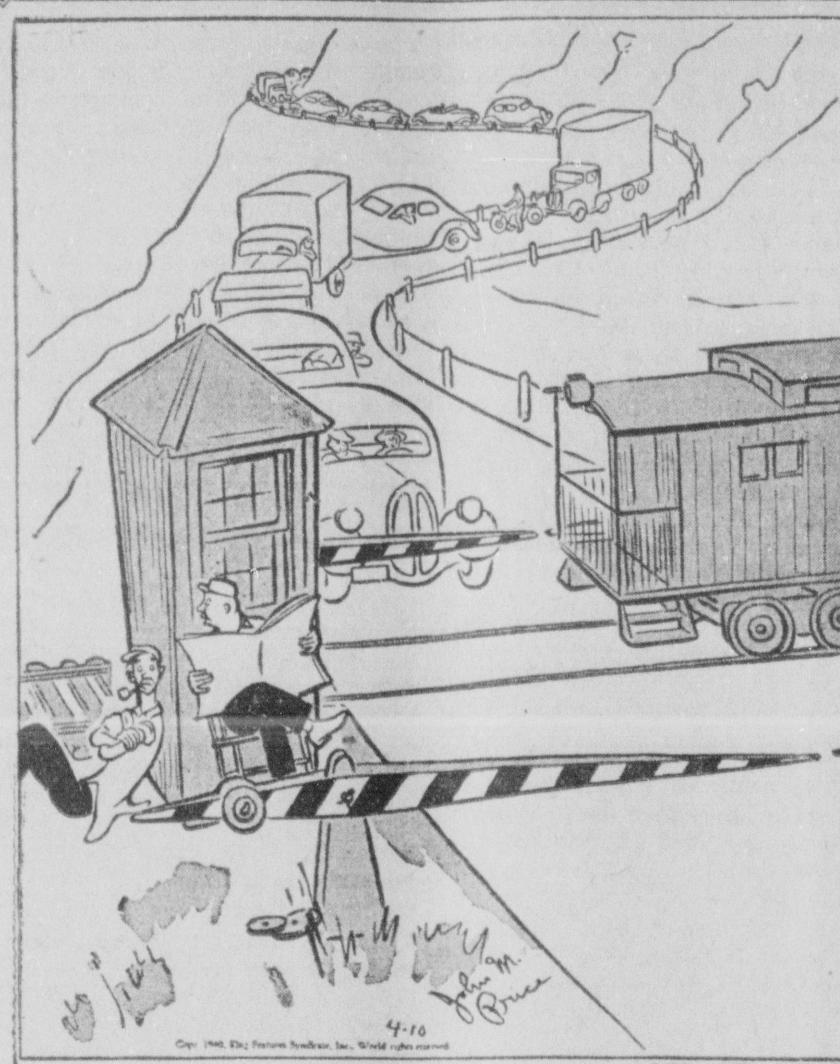

NOTE—Later Leslie Gould, well-known New York financial writer, caustically advised Wall Street to award Rea a "long pair of coat tails with brass handle bars" because "moves like this one by Mr. Rea just muddy the waters."

LABOR ACT SAFETY

The secret decision reached at the House Republican caucus on the drastic Smith amendments to the National Labor Relations Act was to play it safe.

The GOP boys will take no stand for the present. They will keep mum until public reaction can be gauged. Then the next step will be decided. But whatever party stand is decided on, the strategy will be to let the Democrats carry the ball in the open battling over the amendments.

DIET AND HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Should an expectant mother eat foods containing iron?

Yes, and she should also sometimes take pure iron in addition to iron-containing foods.

Among the most important results of the recent intensive interest in the study of blood conditions has been to show the frequency of a certain type of anemia in pregnant women due to iron-deficiency. The public should be educated in this and the mother should co-operate with the doctor by submitting to monthly visits so that her condition may be checked frequently during the period she is carrying the child.

Value of Sunlight to the Body

Does exposure to sunlight add anything to the body?

One of the early theories of the nature of light described by Newton was that it consisted of a number of fine particles. This was the so-called "corpuscular theory." Later it was decided that light was a mode of motion, but in modern days it seems to have changed its ground and gone back to the Newtonian theory, that sunlight is a substance, fine particles in rapid motion — the most rapid motion known, 186,000 miles per second.

Sunlight definitely has an effect on the body. The sun's rays are the greatest source of energy known. The green leaves of the vegetables are the most efficient trap for this energy, and when we eat green vegetables and fruit, we acquire by indirect methods some of the sun's energy. This, however, should al-

FOR BETTER POSTURE

Exercises to correct faulty posture:

(1) Raise the arms over the head, stretching to fullest capacity. Bend backward as far as possible, then bend forward, touching the ground with the knuckles.

(2) With hands on the hips, twist the body from the waist only, to the right. Try to look on the ground, over the shoulders. Repeat left.

(3) Stand erect with the arms held to the side. Bend the body sideways to the right. Repeat left.

(4) Sit on a low stool and bend the body backward slowly. In regaining the upright position, this movement also strengthens the abdominal muscles.

ways be supplemented by exposure to the sun itself.

Man was supposed to live in the sun. It actually creates food. Experiments have shown that when guinea pigs are given a prepared food which lacks several elements necessary for maintaining life and health, and are kept in the dark on this diet, they grow deformed and crippled. But if they are placed in the sunlight for half an hour, even though they are on this same diet, they grow in a healthy way; the bones grow well and no crippling occurs. Even when the crippled guinea pigs are placed in the sun, they begin to improve immediately without making any change in their diet.

The ultra-violet rays of sunlight are a very efficient, vitalizing agent. Pneumonia, influenza and other infections are most prevalent in the geographical regions where sunlight is absent a large part of the time.

EDUCATOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Food and Gaining Weight," "Food Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin".

A woman widowed either by death or divorce, may continue to wear her wedding ring until she re-marries.

Today's Horoscope

Those who have birthdays on this day should "make hay while the sun shines" on them, in the next 12 months. Their prospects will be excellent. They will profit through strangers, new contacts and new methods. Courage and determination are two excellent qualities which the child born today will possess. He or she also will be very clever and accomplished. Such a personality may, however, lack sufficient concentration and continuity of purpose to achieve the success which the aforementioned qualities and talents warrant.

$150 Voted To Help Pay Off Debt Of Church

Social Calendar

Eighty members were present for the Tuesday meeting of Luther League in the Trinity Lutheran parish house, when it was voted to donate $150 to the Pence Box committee to be used toward the cancellation of the church debt.

The Rev. Harry Boyer of Columbus interested the group with his short talk on "Greenwood Lake" which is near Delaware. The camp, located at this spot, is the meeting place where about 200 representatives of different leagues gather for a summer vacation. The Rev. Mr. Boyer discussed the many activities which are enjoyed during the camping period which will be June 25-29 this year.

Ned Dresbach, president, conducted the business meeting which preceded the Easter party of the league. A splendid paper was read by Miss Iona Quincel who used as her theme, "Why Catechisms". The five main points emphasized were the Ten Commandments, the Christian Creed, the Lord's Prayer, Baptism and the Lord's Supper. This was followed by group discussion.

Luther League pins were displayed by Miss Lena Webb, many members ordering them.

Gladden Troutman, chairman of the play committee gave a report on the progress of the play selected, "Path Across the Hill". This is to be presented to the public sometime during the latter part of April.

It was announced that the Scioto-Hocking Valley Spring Rally would be held at Canal Winchester April 28.

Four new members were received at the meeting, Miss Mary Wolfe, Paul Matz, Ted Moon and Paul Brobst.

An appropriate Easter lunch was served by candle light in the dining room. Miss Ruth Eppard was chairman of the committee comprised of Ned Dresbach, Miss Maxine Dresbach, Edward Ebert, Walter Eppard, George Fischer, Miss Margie Friece, William Goeller, Marion Good and Miss Margaret Good.

Games, directed by Miss Margaret and Gail List, were enjoyed during the social hour.

DEERCREEK TOWNSHIP GIRL LEADS IN SENIOR SCHOLARSHIP COMPETITION

STATE REPORTS GRADES SCORED BY 16 STUDENTS

Marina June Straley Takes Honors With 210 Score Of Possible 300

POSITIONS ANNOUNCED

Circleville Boy In Tie With Saltcreek Pupil For Second Place

A Deercreek Township girl is the outstanding senior high school pupil in Pickaway County, grades announced Wednesday by the State Department of Education reveal. She is Marina June Straley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Straley, who scored a grade of 210 out of a possible 300 to pace boys and girls of all the county schools and of Circleville in the annual General Scholarship Test for seniors conducted March 30 in the Circleville High School building.

The grades were revealed by Superintendent George D. McDowell, head of the Pickaway County schools, after the papers were checked in the state department office.

In second place among the seniors were found David R. Eagle-son, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Eagle-son of North Pickaway Street, and Charlotte Jeanne Schall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Schall of Saltcreek Township. They tied with grades of 206.

The only grades revealed by the State Department of Education were those of the high 25 percent of the 64 students who took the examinations. Grades of the other seniors will be sent to the various schools for consideration by their superintendents.

In addition to the first and second place winners, the following were included in the top 25 percent:

Charles W. Mayberry, Walnut, 203; Marilyn E. Lutz, Circleville, 201; William C. Martin, Ashville, 196; Robert E. Strous, Saltcreek, 185; Warren J. Elliott, Washington, 180; Eleanor L. Brown, Circleville, 189; Eileen Oesterle, New Holland, 188; Warren E. Beers, Scioto, 184; Annabelle Carle, Deercreek, 184; Robert L. Bremer, Circleville, 181; Helen L. Straley, Deercreek, 180; Bernard K. Dennis, New Holland, 176; William E. Strehle, Walnut, 174.

Certificates of recognition will be presented to the seniors in the top 25 percent.

Census Shows Adelphi May Disappear, But Not For About 2,000 Years

The disappearance of the village of Adelphi in 2,000 years was the prediction that was made following the completion of the census in the village Tuesday. Adelphi was the first minor civil subdivision reporting in the 11th census district, which includes Pickaway, Fairfield, Perry, and Ross Counties. J. H. Mattox, district census supervisor, said.

Adelphi was a thriving village of 412 persons when the 1930 count was finished. The 1940 total compiled by Enumerator George Kellnerberger, Hallsville, showed that present population has shrunk to 410 persons.

Mr. Mattox indicated that this is an unofficial report similar to those which will follow as each civil subdivision is completed. The procedure follows the pattern in this manner: the enumerator's report is checked by the district office which in turn gives the report to some person in authority in the subdivision who then makes the official statement of the count. In Circleville it will probably be Mayor William B. Cady who will make the official report.

A checkup period will exist between the time the report is received from the enumerator and the official report to Washington. This period is to allow complaints to be made of those who have not been counted or of those who know others who have not been added to the tally. Criticism is invited, Mattox said, and a checkup on all complaints will be made.

A contest for top honors in poor housing was waged and Chillicothe became the victor when it was found that 20 persons were discovered living in a five room house exceeding the mark of 18 persons living in a single household in Circleville.

COLUMBUS COUNCIL MAY APPROVE GREEN'S BILL

COLUMBUS, April 10—Passage of Mayor Floyd F. Green's 1940 budget by council was virtually assured today after council members, sitting as a finance committee, approved the appropriation ordinance. The budget is out of balance to the tune of an estimated $2,235,000,000, of which $900,000 is the city's share of relief for 1940. General fund expenditures, exclusive of relief, were placed at $3,494,396.

SALE OF AUTO LICENSE TAGS GOES ABOVE 1939

The lull has finally set in in the sale of automobile license tags. A few persons still drift in to the office of A. J. Lyle, registrar, but the boom days before the April 1 with 1939 plates is only a memory.

Sales to date are ahead of those of last year by 33 plates, but a fairly steady stream of between 20 and 30 a day is expected to show a decided increase at the end

FUTURE SCOUT TROOP LEADERS GIVEN TRAINING

Still more opportunities remain for boys over 18 years of age and all men of Pickaway County to train for future leadership of new Boy Scout troops to be organized in the county, according to word received from Virgil Cress, county chairman of Leadership Training.

MAN, 57, EJECTED FROM CAFE MAY BE BADLY HURT

CHILlicothe, April 10—Following his forcible ejection from Hamberg's Cafe on West Water Street, Frank Shewalter, 57, Sherman Hotel, was in a critical condition at the Chillicothe Hospital Tuesday night.

Fred Schenkle, the bartender who ejected Shewalter, was taken to the police station with the unconscious man. Shewalter was transferred to the hospital after the examination.

A report from the hospital by the doctor said that Shewalter, who suffers a bad heart condition, was still unconscious and showed little pulse. He did not respond to the periodic administration of heart stimulants.
